

ONGC PUBLIC SCHOOL NERAVY - KARAIKAL

Parent's Orientation Programme

Date: 26.08.2023

Venue: Agasthya Hall

Participants: Parents of Class IX Students

Introduction: ONGC Public School organized an insightful Parents' Orientation Programme titled 'A Day with Parents,' aimed at fostering a collaborative relationship between the school and parents for the holistic development of Class IX students. The programme highlighted the importance of nurturing children with positive values and thoughts. The distinguished speaker for the event quoted the Thirukural, an ancient Tamil text, to emphasize the role of parents in shaping their children's character.

Key Highlights of the Programme:

Thirukural Quotation: The programme commenced with the speaker quoting Thirukural, a classic Tamil literary work. The quote, "Vellathanaiya malar neetam mantharku ullathanayathu uyarvu" (translated as "Parents should take effort to bring up their children through elevating them with high and good thoughts"), formed the cornerstone of the discussions. This quote underscored the responsibility of parents in molding their children's character through positive and uplifting thoughts.

Emphasis on Positive Atmosphere: The speaker elaborated on the importance of creating a positive atmosphere at home for the emotional and psychological well-being of children. A nurturing environment filled with encouragement, understanding, and constructive communication was emphasized as essential for a child's overall growth and development.

Collaboration between School and Parents: The Parents' Orientation Programme stressed the significance of collaboration between the school and parents. The speaker highlighted how a unified approach between educators and parents can ensure that students receive consistent guidance, both academically and personally, resulting in well-rounded individuals.

Interactive Sessions: The programme featured interactive sessions where parents had the opportunity to ask questions and seek guidance on various aspects of parenting. The speaker provided practical tips and suggestions for creating a positive and conducive atmosphere at home, as well as fostering open communication with their children.

Impact and Parent Feedback:

The Parents' Orientation Programme garnered positive feedback from the participants. Many parents expressed appreciation for the insights provided by the speaker and found the Thirukural quotation particularly meaningful. They highlighted the need to instill good values and thoughts in their children and pledged to work towards fostering a positive home environment.

Conclusion:

The Parents' Orientation Programme, 'A Day with Parents,' served as a platform to reinforce the vital role parents play in their children's upbringing. Quoting the Thirukural, the event underscored the importance of instilling high and positive thoughts in children's minds. It reaffirmed the commitment of ONGC Public School to not only impart academic knowledge but also to contribute to the overall character development of its students by fostering collaboration between parents and the school.
